The Emergence of the Library Club

The Library Club was founded in 2009 as a way to get students more involved with the Cerritos College Library and all its wonderful resources. Prior to the first meeting, librarians Monica Lopez, Paula Pereira, and Lorraine Gersitz discussed possible activities to offer new club members.

The above picture was taken during our first club meeting on October 22, 2009. New members embraced the suggested activities and made suggestions for new ones.

Club members share a common goal - reading and discussing literature, books, and current affairs. The Library club sponsors a variety of activities that expand its member's cultural and intellectual knowledge. Members organize and participate in book sales, poetry readings, book discussion groups, cultural excursions, outdoor activities, and bake sales. They learn how to use the library resources and conduct library research. Members organize events that enable them share their knowledge with each other as well as with others on campus.

The Cerritos College Library Club is open to all Cerritos College students. Join us!

L.A. Times Writer - Workshop

October, 29, 2012 - Our workshop with L.A. Times Writer Sam Quinones was a big success. Students from the Journalism Club sponsored the dinner and the Library Club sponsored the event. Students were very attentive and asked several questions to Sam Quinones during a very informative evening. To find out more about Sam and his interesting stories, visit his website:
